

MARS Golf League - March 2024

Cochair Guidelines

Introduction

The Cochair Guidelines have been updated to reflect changes that have evolved since the end of covid and the full adoption of Golf Genius.

The league owns a traveling pouch that is transferred between cochairs from week to week. This pouch contains materials necessary for conducting our events:

1. Copy of the cochair guidelines including prize money allocation tables found at the end of this document.
2. Empty envelopes for distributing prize money.
3. Prize money to be delivered to winners.
4. An envelope for unawarded prize money to be given to Secretary Treasurer.

We have our own closest to the pin markers. They are transferred week to week between cochairs just like the pouch.

5. Cochairs are referred to as the first cochair and the second cochair. The first cochair plays with the first group. The second cochair plays with the last group.
6. Just prior to the event, one of the cochairs will make arrangements with the Event Manager to acquire the tee sheet for their event or print it from Golf Genius.
7. Both cochairs need to arrive at the course prior to the first tee time. The cochair with the sign in sheet should arrive first so that the check in process can proceed. Most players arrive early to warm up. One of the cochairs must bring the pouch and closest to the pin flags to the event.
8. The cochairs determine the holes to be used for the closest to the pin contest. The first cochair takes the closest to the pin flags and puts them out on the designated holes.
9. The cochairs sign in all the players. This consists of checking their name off the sign-in sheet by marking them paid when collecting the $5.00 entry fee. Players who do not yet have a handicap are not eligible to win prizes and are not required to pay an entry fee. Note that no entry fee is collected for the league tournament.
10. While checking in the players, the cochairs also distribute prize money envelopes from the pouch from previous events.
11. There can be last minute restructuring of groups if there are no-shows or if unexpected players show up. This is easy to accommodate for individual events but more complicated for team events. Always avoid sending out singles. you may need to send out threesomes or a twosome. This will require moving people from one group to another. Changes need to be coordinated with the Event Manager.

12. In some cases, teams will be missing one or more players. In this case the Event Manager will assign a "virtual player" to the team. Virtual players are not awarded prize money. The prize money for the missing team member is placed in the envelope for the Secretary Treasurer to add to the League Tournament prize money. Note that virtual players are not used to fill teams for Scramble events.
13. Two-person scramble teams are not permitted. If there are cancellations on the day of the event, Cochairs are required to adjust the teams so that no two-person teams play. If a player drops out of a three-person scramble team then that team cannot compete and should have their prize money refunded. If a player drops out of a four-person team than the team should proceed in accordance with the instructions in the Member Guide and continue the competition.
14. Once everyone is checked in, the second cochair puts all the money and sign-in materials in the pouch and gives the pouch to the golf course personnel at the desk. If this option is not available then take the pouch to the course and make arrangements to hand it off to the first cochair.
15. The first cochair must note whether the MARS Golf league is delayed by the players in front of us
16. The second cochair collects the closest to the pin flags when the last group reaches the green for the holes selected for the closest to the pin contest and brings them to the clubhouse along with the pouch.
17. The Event Manager will record all scores and determine winners including tie breakers and will provide you the names of the winners. Use the tables at the end of these guidelines to allocate prize money as follows:
  - a. Determine the type of event - individual, two-person team, four-person team.
  - b. Find the table for that type of event
  - c. Determine the number of players and verify the prize money total.
  - d. Find the table entry for the number of players. The flights in the table are also used by Golf Genius.
  - e. There are always three winners per flight. The table will tell you how much each player wins. For team events the table will tell you how many team winners there are and how much each player wins. Write the names on the envelopes and put the prize money in the envelopes. Note: Totals are adjusted for closest-to-the-pin awards of $12 (two winners, $6 each)
  - f. It is helpful to come to the event with some extra one-dollar bills and five-dollar bills so that you can make the correct change for the envelopes.
  - g. If players are still there you can give them their envelope immediately. Otherwise, put their envelopes with the prize money in the pouch and the players can retrieve it at their next event,

- h. Note that in some instances there will be a few dollars left over because the prize money cannot be divided evenly. There is an envelope in the pouch for unawarded prize money. This money will be collected by the Secretary Treasurer and added to the League Tournament prize money. You are asked not to provide your own money to make prize amounts come out even.
18. Place all materials from your event in the pouch and arrange with one of the next week's cochairst for the pouch and closest to the pin flag transfer. You may be able to do this at the conclusion of your event or you may have to make arrangements to get together before the next event.
  19. The cochairst may need to notify the member of the Web Committee responsible for the golf page of the results. If that person is a member of the league, then they will be notified by the Event Manager along with everybody else.
